

How Do You Improve On Perfect?

Since the release of APB's Spectra consoles, everyone has raved about three things – astoundingly quiet, brilliant sounding EQ and more features per square inch than anything on the market. So what did we do to one up ourselves?

So how about smaller and even quieter?

The wait is over and the ProRack™ is now shipping!

The most flexible rack mount mixer available when you consider the unmatched multitude of features that we've squeezed into 10u of rack space. The shorter signal path has yielded an even quieter version of the Spectra. Not really a surprise considering that many of the innovative component choices and proprietary circuit topologies are exactly the same as used in the Spectra series!

Mechanically speaking, these were designed by a 'family' of engineers whose collective experience of over 65 years designing consoles has created a product with unmatched reliability and performance. Unique features such as their three position input panel gives an insight into their ingenuity.

If you truly care about what your mixes sound like, we encourage you to mix on any APB-DynaSonics console. Music is art and we've mastered the art of analog consoles.

For the myriad of features too large to list here, go to www.apb-dynasonics.com. When you're ready to get your hands on one, call us and we'll set you up with the right dealer.
